

TRANSFORMATIVE JUSTICE WITHIN ACADEMIA: A RADICAL INSTITUTIONAL REFLECTION

MARCH 16, 2021
PROGRAM

- 9:00 - 9:15 Opening remarks
- 9:15 - 10:30 Key discussion: Hawa Mire & Krisna Saravanamuttu (TBC)
- 10:30 - 10:35 Health & logistic break
- 10:35 - 10:50 Spoken word: Balam and Co.
- 10:50 - 11:00 Health & logistic break
- 11:00 - 12:15 Concurrent panels 1 & 2
- 12:15 - 1:00 Lunch break
- 1:00 - 1:15 Spoken word: Balam and Co.
- 1:15 - 2:30 Panel 3
- 2:30 - 2:35 Health & logistic break
- 2:35 - 3:00 Collective re-imagination
- 3:00 - 3:30 Closing remarks
- 3:30 - 4:00 Next steps and publication (Panelists only)

Panel 1. Punitive academia

Mitra Mokhtari
ACAB: All Criminologists Are Bad? The Canadian Criminology Department & The Reproduction of Carcerality

Barbara Becnel
Black Street Gangsters v. The Hegemonic Scholar Class: Assessing How Cultural Similarities Between America's Gang Leaders and Academia's Elite Influence Student Agency, Equity, and Relevance in Knowledge Production

Nicole Patrie
Re-imagining education from inside: Finding non-punitive academia through prison education

Panel 2. Technologies of Power within Academia

Miriam Hird-Younger
University as Investor: Process and Accountability

Karimah Rahman
An Intersectional and Decolonial Policy Analysis Towards Transformative Justice: Intersectional Positionalities of Power/Privilege and the Colonial Harm and Violence They Reproduce in Academia

Lachlan Summers and Kathryn Gougelet
When Police Pass the Baton to Campuses

Allison Lunianga, Jonathan Carlson, and Leah Wilson
This Paper Would Like to Speak to Your Manager: Whiteness, Technoculture and Reckoning with the Karen

Panel 3. #UsToo

Sally Mercer
The cloak of not-belonging: the phenomenon of imposter syndrome in first generation academics

Anna Lippman
Are We in Trouble?: Students Tackling Anti-Black Racism in Sociology and the price of social justice

Amber-Lee Varadi
A collective grievance, a collective acquiescence: Rememberings and hauntings in our pandemic of racialized violence

Sabeen Kazmi
'Deconstructing civility': civility as a reaffirmation of colonial institutionalizing of class, caste, power and privilege

